Hitting the Right Notes at Painted Rock Estate Winery

Flowcrete Americas has been involved in a stunning floor installation at the Painted Rock Estate Winery located in Penticton, BC, Canada.

Some 2,000 sq ft of Flowcrete's fast-cure, MMA quartz flooring system, Flowfast Quartz, was installed in external areas, creating a terraced patio that extends from the tasting lounge alongside 1,500 sq ft of a complementary Peran STB epoxy quartz system in internal areas.

This formed part of a floor renovation project, replacing a pre-existing brilliant white epoxy floor, which had been provided as part of the original construction by competitor manufacturers and installers that had become slippery, dirty and at times dangerously bright in the low-hanging afternoon sunshine.

Flowfast Quartz is a robust, wear resistant and fast cure MMA flooring system with a decorative quartz finish. At Painted Rock, a special blend of off-white quartz aggregates were used and sealed with a clear, UV resistant methyl methacrylate sealer to provide light-stability.

The external installation of MMA flooring systems also included Painted Rock's logo, which was inset seamlessly into the floor at the entrance to the building.

The Peran STB system laid inside the facility utilized the same off-white quartz blend to provide a decorative, wear and slip resistant surface inside the main tasting lounge and bar area. Peran STB offers excellent chemical and stain resistance – a must have in an environment prone to red wine spillage.
